

2016 Northwestern Regional Conformation Show and Breed Survey Report

The 2016 Northwestern Regional Conformation Show and Breed Survey was hosted by the Menlo Park Schutzhund Club and was held at their club field in Newark, California on June 11, and 12, 2016 and was judged by Mr. Rainer Mast, an SV Show Judge and Kormeister. The show was well attended by a number of local and long-distance (as far as Utah and Idaho) participants and spectators. Mr. Mast speaks very good English so his critiques were very easy to understand and his readiness to share his knowledge with any enquiring mind was very much appreciated.

Mr. Rainer Mast is very well respected as a judge and a Kormeister in Germany and comes from Wurttemberg region in Germany. He has been a conformation judge since 2002 and in 2008 he obtained his Breed Survey Master (Kormeister) license. He has judged in many countries of the world and also many Sieger shows in Germany.

As you all may know, German Shepherd Dogs with longstock hair and undercoat are allowed in the show ring as a separate category, so for each age group, we had four separate subcategories – males, females, short hair and long stock hair.
